President Cook Defends 'Social Meetings', Saying: "They Will Continue Unless Members Themselves Rule Otherwise.'

APPEAL OF BREWER HELD OUT OF ORDER

Fiscal Program Is Voted, As Previously Indicated, Over Vigorous Protests of Finance Chairman.

By FRANK DRAKE.

Charging "the mayor and general council have held secret meetings since the first of the year," Ed S. Cook, president of the Atlanta Board of Education, yesterday sought to justify "social gatherings" of the board prior to open meetings which were characterized by Ernest J. Brewer, fourth ward board member, as "dress rehearsals."

Brewer said the board in holding conferences from which the public and newspapermen are excluded is "breaking its own rules."

Cook's statements were made at special meeting of the board yesterday afternoon where the administration's financial program was adopted over the vigorous protests of Brewer and Dr. H. J. Penn, who is chairman of the fi-

Penn, who is chairman of the finance committee of the board.

The board, by a vote of 4 to 2, allocated $253,800, which was the school department's share of $1,-146,000 in new city revenue from increased taxation. School employes who were working under cuts of from 2 to 28 per cent from basic pay were restored to basic below $100 and reductions above $100 were reduced to a flat 10 per cent for all salary brackets. Penn and Brewer objected to the flat rate above $100 and insisted on a graduated scale.

Brewer Loses Appeal.

Brewer sought to have the board adopt a resolution to "conform with the official rules and reguand have all meetings of the board open to the public" but his motion was ruled out of order by President Cook. Brewer did not appeal the ruling.

Dr. Penn asserted the board ceated the finance committee "unfairly" yesterday when two fi-nancial matters which had been referred to the committee were

Unless the members agree not to hold any more conferences, they perior court yesterday forbidding will continue to be held," President Cook said as he asserted he believed the present board had made much progress toward harmony and should be commended and not criticized.

"Every time we have met we have invited all members of the board to be present," Cook declared. "Brewer used to hold caucuses when he was president of the board, I do not think we have done anything wrong. The mem-

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- (UP) President Roosevelt lost a $3,200,-000 economy fight in the "porkhungry" house late today but won an easy victory in the senate to make the Civilian Conservation Corps-his favorite New Deal project—a permanent agency.

Earlier he had bowed to house Democrats rebelling against his sweeping economy drive, by agreeing to support a $25,000,000 emergency flood control program for the Ohio valley this year. Thus Mr. Roosevelt reversed the position he took a fortnight ago when he urged that flood control authorizations be deferred until the

ROBINSON PUSHED FOR HIGH TRIBUNAL BY SENATE GROUP

Speculation Continues as to Future Outcome of Court Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- (A) Colleagues continued today to boom Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic senate leader, for the supreme court vacancy to be created by the retirement of Associate Justice Van Devanter.

The possibility of Robinson's appointment was mentioned for the first time in senate debate, with Senator Clark, Missouri Democrat, remarking that "we all hope he will be transferred to another body," but will "be sorry to lose" him.

In some circles there was discussion whether Robinson could sit in judgment next year on the constitutionality of legislation

NO PLACE FOR SECRECY

Secret caucuses being held by the city board of education, as charged by Ernest L. Brewer, fourth ward member, and admitted yesterday by the board president, Ed S. Cook, should be immediately abandoned.

The star-chamber theory has no place in democratic government.

Decisions made at such secret meetings of the board may or may not have been to the best interest of the schools-but that is not the real issue involved.

The more serious aspect is the question of whether or not open and democratic conduct of the public business shall be put aside in favor of administrative policies arrived at during secret conclaves, with the public carefully excluded.

There is no department of public service in which the people as a whole are more vitally concerned than the schools. There will, and should be, quick and universal resentment by the parents of Atlanta's school children.

Such a practice means simply that the board of education feels the public should be kept in ignorance of the underlying facts in connection with school affairs—that the fathers and mothers of Atlanta's school children are not intelligent enough to be taken into the confidence of the school authorities in the formulation of school policies.

Efforts at secret conduct of the public business smack of autocracy and, in effect, are tantamount to the adoption of the long since discredited policy of "the public be damned."

Neither in the school board, nor any other branch of the municipal government, is secret discussion and adoption of policies warranted or justifiable. Not until recently has such a desire ever been evidenced by the public servwho have been put into office by the votes of the people.

The public should be warned by the recently recurring reports of such efforts at starchamber sessions by various municipal bodies.

For the good of the government, and of the people, if any such secret government is being attempted, it must be nipped in the bud.

GOOD WORK PAYS DIVIDENDS

Mayor Hartsfield, speaking before the Atlanta Real Estate Board, revealed there is a likelihood of reductions in rates on accident and automobile liability insurance in Atlanta as the result of improved efficiency in the police and fire departments.

The United States Bureau of Census reports that Atlanta, in the period from April 10 to May 8 recorded only three deaths in traffic, compared to eight for the same period one year

Thus efforts to improve traffic conditions in the city, led by a police department displaying, in recent months, a remarkable increase in efficiency, holds promise of dividends in dollars. The possible saving to automobile owners and the general public through lowered insurance rates mounts high into many thousands of dollars.

The National Safety Council, the mayor stated, ranks Atlanta first among cities of the country for improved traffic records this year. If this record is maintained, the city will formally request the lowered insurance rates and there is little doubt the underwriters will fail to grant this material recognition of greater police efficiency.

MIGHTY EASY TO INSULT

Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, in a recent address, referred to Adolf Hitler as "an Austrian paperhanger." Which resulted in an outburst of horrified protest from the Nazi-controlled German press.

Berlin newspapers attacked Cardinal Mundelein for having "villified Der Fuehrer in a way impossible to describe." The official German news agency declared "the German nation as a whole is justified in demanding satisfaction for these digusting insults."

Despite the furore of protest from Naziland, mere designation as "an Austrian paperhanger' seems slight ground for the Hitler resentment. Is there anything disgraceful about the profession of paperhanging? Practitioners of the art have been proverbially honored as hard workers, especially one-armed paperhangers with trouble of the epidermis.

The Hitlerites should adopt the philosophy of most American officeholders-when they have achieved places of public honor, enjoy nothing more than reference to their humble origin. There is hardly a tycoon in all America who does not refer, on every possible opportunity, to the days when he sold newspapers on the street. Half the joy of achievement depends upon the humble origin.

Besides, if Der Fuehrer is insulted at being told he is "an Austrian paperhanger," how about the Austrian paperhangers themselves? They have not the channels for articulate protest that are open to Adolf, but may they not have grounds for more reasonable objection? Possibly a plebiscite of paperhangers in Austria would reveal resentment at the inclusion of this ex-confrere in their roster of fame.

TO MAKE LITTLE GO FAR

Representatives of four local governments and officials of the Fulton county department of public welfare have adopted a highly commendable policy of co-operation and efficiency for the reduction of suffering and acute human

Faced with a situation described by Frank H. Neely, chairman of the board, as "much need and little money," the importance of stretching every dollar to its utmost capacity for service was impressed upon workers of the welfare department.

This policy is vitally necessary in the conduct of every organization devoted to the relief of human want. The burden of humanitarian activity has reached a point beyond the ability of the taxpayers to maintain, and there must, as a result, be reductions. Thus it is only by conservation of every available resource that welfare leaders can hope conscientiously to answer the appeal of the outstretched hands of the helpless.

Proper provision for all who must have public help can be made with funds now available only by the wisest administration and by elimination from the relief rolls of all those who, by their own effort or through the assistance of their own families, can provide for themselves. That such a policy will be followed in the handling of Fulton county relief is assured by the pledge given by city, county, state and federal government representatives before

MARITIME RIVALRY

Congressman S. Otis Bland, of Virginia, chairman of the house merchant marine and fisheries committee, has predicted early restoration of the American flag in its former place upon the mercantile fleets of the oceans. His prophecy was made in a speech delivered at Savannah at a maritime day observance.

"The new United States Maritime Commission is restoring the flag to the seas," Representative Bland declared. "There is every indication that the commission is rapidly clearing the decks for action."

That a friendly war for advantage in ocean transportation will be waged in the Pacific ocean is indicated by the decision of the British imperial conference, now sitting in London, to subsidize British shipping in the Pacific in an effort to wrest control of that traffic from Japanese and American shipping lines. Both Japan and the United States have granted like subsidies and the British action is said to be merely a move to put the empire's shipping interests on equal footing with competitors.

The nation which dominates the maritime commerce of the world enjoys a definite advantage in power over others. While the "fight" for control of mercantile shipping between the United States, Japan and Britain can be waged only upon the friendly footing of rival commercial interests, its outcome will have farreaching effect, not only upon the destinies of the three protagonist nations, but upon the future of the world.

EDUCATION'S GREATER VALUE

Professor Robert L. McWhorter, of the school of law at the University of Georgia ("Bob" McWhorter of Georgia football fame), recently delivered the commencement address at the Carithers Junior High school.

In that address Professor McWhorter pointed out that the most important item in education is not the book knowledge acquired, but those intangible, but nonetheless real, courses in character training which have such vital effect upon the future life success.

Declaring that, to the true student, education never ends, he pointed out that the true value of education lies in the added ability to serve it provides, emphasizing that-

One of the most fundamental advantages of an education is that it places one in a position to make his community in particular, and the world in general, a better place in which to live. With a proper education one can add to the health, comfort, peace, safety, happiness and spiritual uplifting of his people. Such a self-erected monument is more enduring than one of marble or stone.

Professor McWhorter, in those words, touched upon the secret which must, ultimately, bring to pass that earthly millennium for which all good men and women pray and strive. When every youth stepping across life's threshold realizes that the way to greatest happiness lies through unselfish use of the tools of brain and hand given him, then will the era of universal peace and world-wide brotherhood see its dawn.

FAKE ANTIQUES (From the Savannah Morning News.)

Between 75 and 80 per cent of all antique imported into this country since 1906 were fakes, according to a statement of the Treasury Department urging passage of a bill taking antiques (defined in most classifications as articles more than 100 years old) off the free list. The Treas ury Department cites statistics to back up its statement. In 1906, the last year that duty was charged, imports of antiques totaled only $478,000. In the next 28 years the total rose to $640,633,302. Subtracting paintings and statuary, which are more likely to be authentic, a total of almost half a billion remains. Most of these imports come from England, and the Treasury says an actuary could show that such a quantity of antiques could not possibly exist, taking into account the lim-ited number of wealthy families and the loss by breakage, fire, deterioration, etc. It quotes a Brit-ish expert, Herbert Cescinsky, who holds that 80 per cent of the antiques sold in England are spurious. The situation, says the Treasury, de-prives the government of revenue and injures do-estic manufacturers. The act of 1906 was intended to foster the American people's interest in historic objects. This remains a worth-while objective. Greater vigilance by the inspectors and a warning to buyers to be cautious might be a better solution of the fraud problem than the Treasury's proposal to penalize both the sheep and the goats. But certainly some action is in order to protect the government and the people from being victimized by the flood of made-to-order antiques.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON.

THE PLOT THAT FAILED WASHINGTON, May 20.—Something went wrong inside the senate judiciary committee when it repudiated the President's court packing bill. At the very moment the committee was rejecting the White House program, an eminent congressional leader was assuring his associates definitely that the committee would not do it. When the bad news was brought to him, he was so shocked he would not talk to anyone the rest of the day. At the White House, surprise was likewise indicated. The President did not get his wind back in time to discuss the matter in his press conference later that day.

The fact is the presidential major-domos thought they had arranged for an entirely different result. They are not saying anything now, except among themselves, but they thought the committee was going to have a tie vote (nine to nine) on the Logan compromise. This is a proposal to pack the court at the rate of one a year instead of six at once. Such a development would have saved the court-packing program from the ignominy of a direct defeat. It would have lifted the issue out of the committee to the senate floor for open discussion with the least possible pain to all.

Everything was fixed for it, or, at least, nearly everything. The skids were greased, all except one skid.

SNOOZING What happened, the Roosevelt domos say, was that one of their pals on the committee was asleep at the switch. He was supposed to vote for the Logan compromise, but got to voting against all compromises so fast he did not know when to stop. The question now has arisen as to whether he took or was given a sleeping powder before the meeting.

If he had voted for the Logan proposal, the vote would have been exactly nine to nine. As it was, the compromise was defeated, 10 to 8, and the committee went on to defeat the President's plan by the same score.

What it seems to boil down to is that the domos did a very bad job on the committee, or else some natural and unavoidable misunderstanding arose. At any rate, they were flabbergasted and were unable to do anything about it after it occurred.

DOMESTICATION A Democratic group of anti-packers around the senate has come to be known familiarly in the corridors as "the Lion-Tamers' Club."

The title grows from an obvious but not generally advertised fact. They make no secret, in conversation, of their displeasure over the general attitude taken by the White House since the last on other matters as well as the court.

What brought their resentment out more distinctly was the latest edict of the President against compromise. Since then, they have been talking (in private, of course) about what happened to Mr. Wilson on Article X when the war President stood against any senatorial dotting of "I's" and any extra senatorial crossing of "T's." Their personal view point seems to be that it is up to them not only to defeat the court program on its merits, but (as one of their number describes it) to "make the President become a President

That is, they believe the old natural constitutional checks and balances prevailing in government prior to the depression may be restored, if the President is just once defeated on an issue. Not all anti-packers feel that way, but enough of them do to create a very strong personal and somewhat bitter situation.

MISREPRESENTATION The circulation of foolish rumors and inflammatory personal stories against Mr. Roosevelt is again causing some inner concern here. One especially fantastic idea was circulated in a confidential letter by a news agency implying that the President collapsed in a coma at his desk before he went south for a rest. There is, of course, not a grain of truth in the suggestion.

All Presidents have had to put up with this sort of stuff. The trouble is they cannot deny such rumors without dignifying them, and generally the denial gets wider circulation than the original Most Presidents have been unable to maintain their patience against irresponsible gossip. The only satisfactory solution seems to be a deep and hearty

The Appointed Time.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa-All things have their appointed time. That is a well-known and true word from the Bible. There is an enor-mous value and power in everything that happens on time. The right word spoken at the right time, the right act performed at the psychological moment, as we the psychological moment, as we say, acquire a special force because of that very element of timeliness. By themselves they need not necessarily be words or acts of importance, but when they occur at the right moment, when they fit in exactly where they be-long, they suddenly assume new significance and are often deci-sive. How often do we not say or think: I should have done this, or, I should have said that. We are aware then that the right moment has passed. For time does moment which brought the decision has gone. That is why it is of such capital importance that we know our time and be on the alert to be on time.

All things have their appointed time, says the Biblical writer. There is a time to be born and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to tear up by the roots; a time to build and a time to break down; a time to weep and a time to laugh: a time to moan and a time to dance; a time to hold fast and a time to let go; a time to speak and a time to be silent. We all know the expression about there being a time to come and a

In a life that is truly life, all things happen at their appointed time. There is regularity in it, but also is it rich in change and not monotonous.

Determine Right Moment.

Much of the unrest and disquietude of modern life is related o the fear to be too late. And indeed there are many people who did come too late and who missed out, did not get what they should in justice, have obtained. The reaction against the fear to be too late is the wild, almost insane chase after happiness, fortune and profits. But this precipitate, inordinate rush to grab, seize hold is as much of an evil as being too late. To eat fruit that is not ripe is just as bad as to eat fruit that has spoiled. There is only one time when fruit should be eaten, namely, when it is ripe. Yet in the case of fruit it is easy to determine the right moment, but when you think of matters of greater value, spiritual, social, economic relationships, when must a refusal be made, when is assent or consent desirable, when to speak, when to be silent, a great

We cannot tell before hand which moments in life are deci-sive, any more than you can tell which blossoms of a tree shall fall to the ground and which shall ripen into fruit. We only realize later, after they have passed, which moments have been decisive in our lives. Therefore, we must be on the alert all the time, ready to act, constantly awake, because the psychological moment may be now, the moment that decides for eternity.

World's Window Seldom in History Have Rebels Violated the Rules Unless the Rules Violated Justice

By ROBERT QUILLEN. The definition of morality changes, as you know, and the rules are interpreted by those who have power. What is sauce for the ose is not sauce for the gander if the gander represents authority.

If a British soldier should kill a foreigner in order to rob him of a jewel, and then present the jewel to his sweetheart, the soldier would be hanged and his lass would be jailed for receiving stolen

When British soldiers conquered and looted India, the spoils so dearly bought included the world's most famous diamond. The thief could find no market for such a gem, so in the course of time it was presented to Victoria and that pious sovereign graciously accepted it. As one of the crown jewels, it adds lustre and glory to such affairs as coronations.

If you remember "A Farewell to Arms," you will also remember your indignation when ingratitude made a deserter of the hero.

Though an American citizen, he had volunteered to serve Italy as a lieutenant in command of an ambulance corps. He was seriously wounded. Back at the front in time to share a disastrous retreat, he did his full duty without show of fear.

But fate was against him. After nightfall he was caught in a disorganized mass of troops crossing a river bridge and was picked out by the torchlights of military police stationed at the bridgehead. They were taking all officers from the line, questioning them briefly and shooting them for deserting their commands. The hero escaped in the darkness, found a friend and obtained civilian clothes. If he had been caught thereafter, nothing could the weak, not the strong.

It has always been that way. Yet rules that don't work both ways eventually cause rebellion and then the weak become the strong and interpret the rules a new way.

Actually, however, another woman's name should have been given to the costume, for it was Elizabeth Smith Miller, who in-troduced Oriental style trousers for women at the world's first equal rights meeting, in Seneca Falls, N. Y. Miss Miller wore with Falls, N. Y. Miss Miller wore with them a skirt that reached just be-low her knees. Mrs. Bloomer wrote an article for a popular woman's magazine of the time, advocating leaving off skirts entirely in favor of the trousers. So they came to be called bloomers.

Of course, women don't wear bloomers today and they're a pret-ty dull subject, but once they were the symbol of woman's emancipation.

appetite and hate in the life of a very attractive young person—a weakness which made of him an utterly profane and ineffective man, as declared in Hebrews 12:16-17.

The weakness of appetite was his first undoing—growth without goodness, skill without service, pleasure without profit, favoritism without fidelity, weariness without work, fainting without food, avidity without appreciation, renouncing without resistance, satiety without strength, departure without destination. Read Genesis without strength, departure with-out destination. Read Genesis

And then the weakness of hate was his second undoing—hate aroused, hate harboured, hate plotting, hate proclaiming, hate dis-turbing, hate dividing, hate exil-ing, hate brooding, hate bereaving, hate destroying. Read Genesis 27:41-45.

The lesson of the lesson, it seem to me, is the inescapable truth that appetite and greed must be con-trolled in every life, and it must begin in youth, if we are to know the joy of triumphant living. Esau sold his birthright for a mere bowl of pottage in a moment of unre-strained hunger—hunger brough on because of wanton waste and cipline, therefore, he could never

As a result of passage of the amendment, the state of Georgia will receive about four times as much vocational educational funds under the appropriation bill as it did last year, it was explained by Mr. Deen. In other words, if the bill finally becomes law, Georgia will received one forty-eighth of $14,398,750, providing the state matches the federal contribution on a 50-50 basis.

"When it comes to educating the youth of this land so they will understand and follow useful and worthwhile pursuits," Mr. Deen said, during the more than an hour's debate on his amendment, "I do not feel that a too strict economy should be followed by this body. I do not believe $14,-000,000 is overly much for this most laudable end."

A SKIN that glows naturally bespeaks radiant health beneath...it is alive...
stays fresh! So, be good to your skin from within and it will be good to you.
The reason for this is quite simple...skin tissues must have an abundance of red-blood-cells to aid in making the skin glow... to bring color to your cheeks... to build resistance to germ attacks.

It is so easy for these precious red-blood-cells to lose their vitality. Worry, overwork and undue strain take their toll. Sickness literally burns them up, improper diet retards the development of new cells. Even a common cold tills them in great numbers.

Science, through S.S.S. Tonle, brings to you the means to regain this blood strength within a short space of time... the action of S.S.S. is cumulative and lasting.

Governor Rivers granted two other negroes, also under death sentences, stays of execution pending further inquiry into their clemency appeals.

Both Melton and Lacy are in the death cells at the state prison farm at Milledgeville. Prison officials said they had not determined which of the two men would be the first to go. The double execution is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock this morning.

Melton was arrested nearly three years ago after Columbus and Muscogee county police had received a long series of reports that two men terrorized petters near the waterworks robbing the men and assaulting the girls. The prosecuting witness in the case in which he was convicted reported the attack and for several nights two Columbus detectives, escorting young women, baited a trap for Melton into which he fell after a week of waiting.

N. Y. Seeks $3,000,000.

Meantime, Grover Whalen, president of the New York World's Fair, 1939, Inc., sought to take the string from Mr. Roosevelt's latest economic punch. The President yesterday vetoed a joint resolution appropriating $5,000,000 for federal participation in the New York fair on the ground that the appropriation was "excessive." Whalen conferred with New York congressional representatives who said afterward that an appropriation of $3,000,000 would be sought to meet Mr. Roosevelt's objections.

Action by the house in increasing the interior supply bill approximately $2,060,000, over this year's grant, $3,200,000 over budget estimates and $7,880,000 over the appropriation committee's recommendations did not startle Democratic leaders. Other supply bills have been passed and sent to the senate calling for appropriations substantially below budget estimates.

"Pork" Projects.

But the interior bill embrace But the interior bill embraces such vote-getting projects as vocational education, parks, highways and reclamation work which, in the political vernacular, go under the general title of "pork." For example, the appropriations committee recommended $7,241,500 for vocational aid to states. The budget bureau recommended $4,241,500 and warned that to increase this amount would be "wasteful and unnecessary."

The house promptly boosted the total to $14,483,000—double the committee's recommendations. The vote was 147 to 91. Then the house voted, 121 to 58, to eliminate an appropriation of $200,000 for flood control and reclamation work on the Crow Indian reservation in Montana.

Republicans chided their Deme cratic colleagues for refusing to co-operate with Mr. Roosevelt's co-operate with Mr. Roosevelt's economy program. Representative John Taber, New York Republican, ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, offered an amendment to reduce the total appropriation of $123,700,000 by 10 per cent.

"You should be ashamed to go back home and face your constituents if you fail to vote for this amendment," Tabor roared.

Economizer Jeered.

'After jeering Taber lustily, Democrats killed his amendment by a vote of 123 to 81. Representative Jed Johnson, Oklahoma Democrat, warned that he had "authentic information" that President Roosevelt would yet the bill if its total appropriation ex-President Rossevelt would veto the bill if its total appropriation ex-ceeded budget estimates but his colleagues did not heed his warning.

Because the work-relief appropriations also touch the life and may affect the votes of thousands of constituents, Democratic house leaders did not worry about members cutting the pending $1,500,300,000 appropriation. They were more concerned over the likelihood with other federal salaries.

Having made declaration, will you tell me just whom or what you were comparing?" "I was thinking of home," she said.

She did not realize that in saying it so simply, there was a certain dignity—not anything which had to do with "good form" which had been taught her nor something which she had patterned from observing these new friends she admired, but something which was fine because it was real, a part of herself. Within an hour, however, she was to be humbly glad that she had said it and on other days days when Duke Bradley's scornful smile and stabbing words were to infuriate her—she was thankful that on this night, of all nights, she had said it. Snake Dancer with Rattle-snake Outline Below.

If we are walking through the woods, or climbing a mountain, and see or hear at rattler, we are woods, or climbing a mountain, and see or hear at rattler, we are likely to do some quick moving in the other direction. The snake coils its body, shakes its rattle and hisses. If a person has gone too close, there is almost sure to be a sudden, fast blow and the snake's fangs may sink into his flesh. The fangs are long, hollow teeth, one pair in the upper jaw. They are tubes, and through them flows venom from the poison sacs. Yes, rattlesnakes are dangerous, but there are Indians in Arizona who dare to handle them and who seldom suffer harm from them. I am thinking of the Hopi tribesmen who take part in the snake dance. In several villages of northern Arizona live about 2,000 Hopi men, women and children. In the late summer, they hold the snake dance. Their medicine men tell prayer while the others danced.

The dancers went away, then came back again. This time, half of them had snakes, in their hands—or clasped in their mouths! The men with eagle-wands poked them toward the serpents, and this helped keep the snakes busy biting at the wands. Just the same, I'm sure none of us would have cared to be that close to a rattlesnake!

After dancing with the snakes for some time, the men dropped them on the ground. Then women stepped forward and dumped baskets of cornmeal on the reptiles.

Next the men who had been carrying eagle-wands reached down and each one picked up a snake, and walked toward the rock. The boys on the rock, as well as the men, grasped the serpents.

The dance lasted about three-

The dance lasted about three-quarters of an hour, and about 100 snakes were used. At the end, the men and boys carried the snakes in their hands down a steep slope and set them free. (For General Interest section of your scrapbook.)

Bringing up the subject of "dress rehearsals" which he charged had been held frequently by the board, Brewer asked President Cook if he might introduce a resolution at the special session by unanimous consent. "If I can't, say so," he said. The board voted unanimous consents.

Ruled Out of Order.

"I move that the board of education conform with the rules and regulations which requires the board hold meetings which are open to the public," he said. Cook ruled it out of order, "unless you can show a specific violation of the rules by the board."

The rule Brewer referred to states unequivocally, "All meetings of the board shall be open to the

A "get-together" meeting was held yesterday at noon by board members, after statements by Brewer charging important busi-ness of the board was agreed upon by the majority of the board before the official meetings which are open to the public are held, had appeared in newspapers. Brewer said many "social conferences of the board from which the public and newspapermen are ex-cluded have been held by the poard.

"I would introduce a resolution to effect a graduated scale of cuts instead of the flat 10 per cent cut but it would not do any good, Brewer said yesterday in the board meeting. Dr. Penn likewise said he would insist on a division in the amount of cuts above the $100 mark but that he knew it would not pass because the other four members of the board had already reached an agreement.

wanted to reduce the cut in the bracket from $100 to $150 to 5 per cent instead of 10 per cent. They said use of the entire $253,800 would be enough to do this.

Both voted against the restoration as put through yesterday by the administration. Penn explained he favored restoration but ed he favored restoration but thought the workers drawing from $100 to $150 a month should not be cut as much as those making above $150 per month.

D. F. McClatchey Jr., new member of the board, introduced a resolution agreed upon at the caucus Tuesday to allow principals and assistant principals who served double sessions in 1928, to draw extra compensation through leaves of absence for sickness or for study. The amount due these teachers totaled more than $5,000. Mrs. D. R. Longino, sixth ward member, introduced the resolution to refund to school workers who retired or were on leave of ab-sence when the January restoration was made, the same pro rata share that those who were on the pay roll as of January 1 received Brewer, Penn Protest.

Penn pointed out both these matters had been referred to the finance committee but that it had not had time to take action since the new revenue came in, Mrs. Z V. Peterson, board member from the second ward, made a motion to take the matters out of the hands of the finance committee, which was voted over the protests of Brewer and Penn, and both reso-lutions were adopted. Brewer and Penn said they felt the finance committee had been treated "unfairly." They said they did not op-pose the payment of the workers but thought the finance committee should have had a chance to act on the papers. Penn voted for the re-fund to teachers who retired or were granted leaves of absence befor the other workers were given the 2 per cent restoration in January.

The flat 10 per cent reduction from basic pay, adopted yesterday in the new school finance sheet, reduced the cut to Dr. Willis A Sutton, school superintendent, by 18 per cent.

In the new sheet, $233,000 was voted for salaries, $5,000 for supply teachers, and $15,000 to the non-salary account.

A request for a report on the Sylvan Hills school project was asked for by Brewer. Sylvan Hills residents had asked that a WPA auditorium project there be changed to class rooms, Mrs. Peterson told Brewer she had investigated but that the WPA would not Another sister, Mrs. James T. Hartness, accompanied by Mr. Hartness and their young son, James Jr. will motor from her home in Starkeville, Miss., for the event. All of these guests will arrive tomorrow and their presence will also make of the occasion a sort of family reunion.

Mrs. Horton is the former Louise King, popular Macon belle, her marriage to Mr. Horton having been one of the brilliant events of the spring season of 1917. A young son. Thad Jr., who is a student at the Darlington school, and a young daughter, Tracy, complete the interesting family circle.

Receiving with the hosts and their guests on Sunday will be Mrs. Curtiss Rand, an attractive newcomer, who has recently come from Birmingham, Ala., to make her home at 2260 Peachtree road. The occasion will assemble a host of friends from Macon and Atlanta between the hours of 4 and midnight.

CLOSE Atlanta friends of Lucille and Dargan Cole will motor to Cartersville on Sunday for the tea at which the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Madison Bell, will be hosts at their home, Roselawn. A number of Carters-ville friends are also invited to greet the honor guests, whose marriage took place last fall. Since returning from their wedding trip to England and Scot-land, Lucille and Dargan have resided in Athens where the lat-ter is continuing his studies at the University of Georgia. Each week end however finds the new-lyweds dividing their time be-tween Atlanta and Cartersville. FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: Almost a year ago I finished college with high notions about making a career for myself. Mother and dad insisted that I come home and stay with them for at least two years since they had been separated from me practically all the time since I was 15. You can guess what happened. I am sunk so deep I can't pull out. There is nothing of particular interest for me to do besides helping mother with the housekeeping, entertaining and being entertained, taking an occasional trip with the family. I am not interested in the men I know and staying at home I have small opportunity of meeting a different sort. Does a girl owe it to her parents to stick by them until she's dried up and lost all her zest?

CATHERINE. insisted that I come home and

Answer: No, a girl doesn't owe it to her parents to spend the best years of her life nestling in their arms as though she were a baby and they shouldn't ask it or ex-pect it. The trouble with some parents is that they cannot recog-nize the fact that daughter has grown up and reached the point that she wants something better, or something different, from life in the home with them. Nine out of 10 mothers will agree to the theory that daughter has a right to lead her own life, choose her work and her mate without inter-ference from the family; yet the ones who agree most glibly fre-quently fail to comprehend that they are throwing themselves squarely in the paths of their chil-dren's choosing and making it imdren's choosing and making it impossible for the theory to be put into practice.

Of course a dutiful daughter must understand that devotion to her is the motivating influence behind her parents' insistence that she stay at home with them; all of which makes the break harder to make. But if she doesn't make it when she's young and full of zest for life, she's sure to be sunk.

The running start and the mo-The urge to do something worth while and get somewhere in life refreshed after leaving the cream will become fainter and fainter unless it has outlet. Ambition, like

Nature is pretty cruel all the way through and certainly cruel to parents. washington, Wednesday.—I wish I could have taken you with me this morning into the secretary of state's office as various officials gathered there to inaugurate radio-telephonic communication with Shanghai, China. It all seemed so simple you could hardly realize what months of present and each of us who sat around the secretary of state's desk could listen to all the conversation and answers which came through from China. Mr. Miller spoke first, then the secretary of state, and finally my turn came. It was a curious sensation indeed to find myself man, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of the executive Yuan, so many thousands of miles away. Madame Chiang was a student at Wesleyan College. She made a plea for better understanding among the women of the world and voiced the hope that as more rapid transportation and easier munication drew us together, we would find an increase in un-derstanding and therefore international peace. Madame Kung, wife of Dr. H. H. Kung, vice president of the executive Yuan and minister of finance, then told me she was very sorry she could not accompany her husband on his visit here in the near future. She added she had talked with him frequently in London, where he is at present, and would now be able to talk to him in this country. Madame Kung is a graduate of Wesleyan

We listened to the Chinese language when Ambassador and Madame Sze talked to the Chinese representatives participating. The entire ceremony gave me a thrill. A most beautiful day and I could not resist getting out for an

I think this is the first time I can remember having a day for the veterans' garden party when we did not have to watch the sky with great anxiety. At 4 o'clock the President and I will go out and stand under one of the big trees on the south lawn and there will file past us groups of men from every hospital in or near the city of Washington.

Old men from the Soldiers' Home, men from St. Elizabeth's hospital, men in wheel chairs, men who are blind. Most of them are victims of the World War, though many of them date their disability back to an earlier period. Some of them are only tem-porarily in a hospital with something which will probably be cured. It is a pleasure to greet them all, but a sad experience never-theless. I always marvel at their power of enjoyment. They seem to forget themselves completely during whatever entertainment we may have, and to get as much pleasure out of ice cream, cake and coffee as any of our own young people might get out of a party of

For this she had bought a new tray, quite big one with a glass over the and firm wicker handles so that a load of refreshments can be carried out and served right from the tray set on the table. She

But there are lots of other be-coming things you could do for summer comfort. We like a wrought iron table with a glass top -this will reflect a pot of flowers in its base effectively, can hold magazines and cigarets and that pitcher of iced tea and will do double duty as an outdoor dining table. Chairs should be bought primarily for complete relaxation.
The Adirondack variety are tilted just right for comfort but are a little hard, so invest in one or two beach mats to pad them. Get mats that are water-proof and fold up into a handy roll, for they will also be handy when daughter is holding court with the local swains. (Why is it that 'teen-age boys love to sprawl so?) All chairs should be easy but you might think of your-self for an especially comfortable one . . a luxurious chaise lounge on gentle, long rockers is our idea of solid summer joy. EXERCISE GADGETS INTER-ESTING AND HELPFUL.

Gadgets certainly make exercise more fun for the reducer. If you go shopping for those muscle toys, you will find plenty of them; there are some brand-new stretching exercisers, improved editions of the rowing machines, and more moderately priced elec-tric vibrators.

Just about the latest thing in the stretching exercisers is a tricky little business with stir-rups for the feet, a thick length of rubber, and a handle. You can sit on the floor, put your feet in the stirrups, and stretch yourself right out of the bulges. One of the exercises is to place the feet in the stirrups, grasp the handle-bar with one hand and lie flat back on the floor, with the free arm stretched out to full length. Then, as you come to a sitting position, you stretch your neck as high as you can get it and tilt your chin. That seems to get all the muscles!

The rowing machines seem to be growing smaller, lighter and more efficient. They are now made so they fold up, to be tucked into a tiny closet space. Any rowing machine or rowing

You can stretch yourself right out of the bulges.

Vibrators come in all sizes, shapes and prices. You can have the little hand-operated vibrator, which is excellent for massaging the bumps; a similar type, elec-trically motored, or the large electrically-run vibrator, which is Mabel has been busy fixing up her side porch.

You might like the horsehair bath band with convenient handles at either end. This band is rubbed vigorously across the hip bulges and is more effective in this area than the bath mitts of the same material.

Two-Ball Foursomes, Fish Fry and Other Entertainment on Program.

Beginning promptly at 12:40 Saturday, the first players in the West End Scotch Foursome will tee off. Paired in the first foursome are Dr. Julius Hughes, former city champion, and Cliff Eley. They will play Stanley Holdich, city champion of Fort Myers, Fla., city champion of Fort Myers, Fla., and Harry Fryckberg. This four-some is expected to prove an in-teresting highlight of the after-

Thirty foursomes are now scheduled to play and will tee off at 5 minute intervals. Non-members can enter and are invited to reg-ister at the clubhouse not later than 12 o'clock Saturday.

Refreshments will be plentiful, with an open air dinner, "fish fry, with all the fixin's" will be served all participants at 6 o'clock. The affair will continue into the evening with a dance, Prizes will be awarded at the dance.

A Scotch foursome is played with two balls. The players are paired according to their game and alternate their shots throughout the 18 holes.

Tommy Barnes, the new city been champion, will play with Hook Sandow, Charlie Edwards and Dr. J. M. Swicegood. They are scheduled to tee off at 12:55.

Other participants and their tarting time is as follows:

EAST LAKE COUNTRY CLUB,

You know there are advantages and disadvantages in going to the semi-finals. My disadvantage is having to go to bed too early. For instance, they are having a dinner party at the club tonight and I have to stay at home. I guess I could go and just stay a little while, but I am afraid if I once got there I would be rather late leaving, so I'll go to bed and be all set for tomorrow (maybe).

Ben Brown Signs For Home-Town Fight

return of the sport on a perma-nent basis. With first-class fighters appearing on shows, Speer has earned the confidence of the public and is conceded as a sure-fire bet to revive boxing here on a big-time basis.

And Ben Brown, providing he shows the same skill here that has won him acclaim in foreign rings

(there is no reason why he shouldn't) will be Speer's fea-

BREAK O' DAY

"And we sat down more than 18,000 of them," said Macon Jones. "We sent out to Loyola and Tulane and got all their bleachers. We put them down the lines on both sides of the field. It look great. There wasn't a complaint. No one was hit by a ball and everyone had a good time. We won the ball game and that made it better."

"Store owners closed up," said Larry Gilbert, "and also bought blocks of tickets and sent all their employes. It was a great day."

The New Orleans ball club recently has been purchased by some New Orleans people, notably Mayor Bob Maestri, Governor Dick Leche and others prominent in politics. It was a good move for New Orleans. Larry Gilbert is pleased.

ATLANTA THROUGH?

In this connection, Mr. Mike O'Leary, who was around from New Orleans, waiting on the return plane, said: "Atlanta is through. You've won the last attendance cup up here. I regret it in a way, but Atlanta is through. "How come?"

"Why, we've made the opening day down there a legal holiday and all the stores will close and send their people to the ball game."

There are dark stories of "pressure" and of passing the word down to "the boys," But whatever it was, the tickets were paid for and they were counted at the gate. Which is

GILBERT SEES SEVEN CLUBS.

Larry Gilbert sees seven clubs in the race. "I think Chattanooga needs only a very little help to get up in the race," he said. "And I imagine Atlanta will be. I think we can move up some as soon as we get the new players. Knoxville looks weakest."

Gilbert's club has been suffering from the same malady which got the Crackers down in the slume of the league.

They made a lot of runs but so did the other clubs. "Look at us on Wednesday," said Gilbert. "We won, 9 and 6, on Wednesday and yet we had 17 men left on base. Which shows how we were getting runs on bases. Winning teams have to have that pitching."

TWO GILBERT BOYS.

Larry Gilbert has a second son who is about ready for baseball. But he wants the boy to go on to college and the boy has agreed, provided they can find a college which gives baseball a real chance.

"Two clubs have made him offers," said Gilbert. But I want him to go to college. He is just 17. But he's crazy to play baseball. He is a left-hander and an outfielder. I think he might really be a good ball

Gilbert's first son, Larry Jr., was all set for a great baseball career when a football knee ruined his career. Gilbert likes football. But the second boy didn't play it. The knee was operated on but never came around. It was tragedy for Gilbert and the boy. Gilbert remains one of the most popular men in baseball and one of the better managers.

Bartell Homers in 9th With Bases Loaded

Dean, Ripple Fined $50 for Fighting

NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—National League President Ford Frick did some fast throwing himself teday by pitching fines of $50 each against Dissy Dean and Jim Ripple for starting the fist fight that resulted in a player riot at yesterday's "battle of the century" between the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants.

Although virtually every player on both teams engaged in the free-for-all, no others were fined. The rival catchers, Gus Mancuso and Mickey Owen, who were ejected from the game for engaging in a personal fight, were not mentioned.

"Dean and Ripple must be held accountable," explained Frick.

"If they hadn't tangled, chances are there wouldn't have been a riot."

nals today, the league champion's caso White Sox to a 3-to-1 vic-second in a row over the Gas House Gang. It was Bartell's ninth circuit clout of the year.

In becoming the only pitcher of the year to beat the Yanks twice, PITTSBURGH, May 20 .- (AP)-The hustling Philadelphia Phillies made five double plays today, one less than the major league record, but dropped the third and deciding game in their series with Pittsburgh's soaring Pirate, 5 to 2. While Bill Swift was limiting the visitors to six hits and fan-ning six batters, the Pirates blasted Southpaw Wayne Lamaster from the mound in three frames, including a second-inning home run by Woody Jensen, and piled up a winning lead.

The Phils' runs came in the sixth when Arky Vaughan made one of his infrequent errors and Swift was touched for three sin-

CHICAGO, May 20.—(P)-Roy Parmelee pitched seven-hit ball and aided in the offensive with a homer with two mates on base to give the Cubs a 6-to-1 victory over Van Mungo and the Brooklyn Dodgers today. Gabby Hartnett also hit a homer for the CINCINNATI, May 20 .- (P)-Vince DiMaggio hit two home runs today to lead the Boston Bees to a 4-to-1 victory over the Cin-cinnati Reds that swept the twogame series. Ernie Lombardi hit a homer for Cincinnati. (Box Scores on Next Page.)

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—(P)—Dick NEW YORK, May 20.—(P)—Bartell's homer with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth Lefty Lee humbled the world inning gave the New York Giants champion Yankees, limiting them a 7-to-4 victory over the Cardi- to three hits in pitching the Chi-

Lee has handcuffed the supposed heavy hitters with a total of seven safeties in two games, allowing them only four in beating them on the New Yorkers' recent western swing.

The Yankes' only run came with Tony Lazzeri's homer in the seventh. The White Sox found Johnny Broaca for 13 hits, including a homer by Zeke Bonura in the sixth. A triple by Rip Radcliff and Mike Kreevich's fly gave the Sox one run in the first, and Luke Sewell's single drove in another in the second.

BOSTON, May 20 .- (AP)-Righthander Willis Hudlin pitched his Cleveland Indians into the top place in the American league to-day when he gained his third triimph of the season over the Red Sox by a 16-5 margin.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(AP) Roxie Lawson had the better of Edgar Smith in a pitchers' battle today and the Detroit Tigers again defeated the Athletics, 3 to 2, Rogell's double scoring Walker with the winning run in the sixth.

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- (P)-Ossie Bluege's twelfth inning single scored the winning run here today to bring Washington a fiveto-four triumph over St. Louis and give the Senators a clean sweep in the three game series.

NEW YORK. May 20.—(P)—A better demand in the bond market today lifted speculative obligations as prices in the share list rallied sharply.

High grade domestic corporate bonds also found some backing and the group continued its creep-ing advance of the past few sessions. Foreigns edged higher on light dealings, while the one dis-cordant note was sounded by U. S. government loans which gave up small fractions.

These latter barely escaped run-ring into the dead calm which has threatened all week as listed issues accounted for less than $350,-000, face value, and activity in the outside market was proportion ately sluggish. Losses ranged from 1-32 to 7-32 of a point. Invest-ment circles said the lack of in-terest was due to uncertainty over the government's June 15 financ ing plans. Some observers look borrowing of about $500,000,-and others have guessed $750,000,000. Few are willing to predict the type of loan the treasury would issue, if it should into the market.

Minor Bill Delays Session's End; $300 Extra Paid Solons.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 20.—(P)
The South Carolina general assembly ended its 1937 session later today, but postponed actual sine die adjournment until tomorrow to allow enactment of a Greenville county bill.

With vouchers for $300 extra pay in their pockets, legislators went home after ending the 76-day session with approval of a minor veto by Governor Olin Johnston of a section of the deficiency appropriation bill.

APPROPRIATIONS BILL PASSES FLORIDA HOUSE TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 20. (A)—Florida's house today passed a $7,300,000 a year general appropriations bill, an unemployment insurance measure and a teachers pension bill.

The senate approved a bill boosting nearly all occupational licenses and authorized a special committee to dig deeper into the affairs of the state welfare board which it is investigating.

LIQUOR DOMINATES

TENNESSEE SESSION
NASHVILLE, May 20.—(P)— Liquor, a dominant issue through-out the long legislative session, out the long legislative session, continued to hold the spotlight tonight as the 70th general assembly moved toward final adjournment.

proved referendum measure for special order of business at 10 a. m., tomorrow, the last day of the session, and simultaneously the house planned to take up a senate proposal to legalize the manufacture of whisky on a county option basis.

North Carolina, South Carolina HIGH COURT ASKED TO HEAR TVA CASE

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(P)—
The Tennessee Valley Authority appealed to the supreme court today to settle quickly and definitely a challenge now pending in a lower court against the constitutionality of President Research! tionality of President Roosevelt's "yardstick" power policy.

James Lawrence Fly, TVA solicitor, filed with the court a petition for a review of last week's de-

COURTS & CO.—Some irregularity may put in its appearance at these levels, offering attractive buying opportunities.

BEER & CO.—From the intermediate and longer term viewpoint, we believe that the list is in a favorable position for making new commitments.

THOMSON & MCKINNON—For the moment at least, the fear of further widespread liquidation has lifted and it would seem premature to conclude all is clear sailing ahead. BEANE—We would not expect the market to go materially lower and still favor purchases on moderate recessions. COURTS & CO.—Some scattered buy-ing was attracted by more optimistic feeling in Wall Street; however, we do not believe the market is ready for a sustained advance.

BEER & CO.—We prefer confining THOMSON & McKINNON—The mar-THOMSON & MCKINNON—Ine market seems to meet resistance around Apex of His Career.

Having reached the apex of his career, an apex achieved by only a handful of men, Cardozo summarizes his achievements with characteristic modesty:

"The years have taught me caution, though they may not have me wisdom. In truth, I am nothing but a plodding mediocrity—please observe, a plodding mediocrity—please observe, a plodding mediocrity—for a mere mediocrity does not go very far, but a plodding one gets quite a distance. There is joy in that success, and a distinction can come from courage, fidelity and industry."

Justice Cardozo's chief "joy" is his work on the supreme court. He had no

RESULTS AWAITED IN SWOC VOTING ON STEEL UNION

Election To Determine Unionization of Steel Goes Off Peacefully.

By the Associated Press. The manufacturing world watched Pittsburgh last night for indications of possible turns in the drive to unionize the giant steel industry.

An election, largest industrial ballot in the nation's history, determined whether the steel workers' organizing committee would be the collective bargaining agency for all of the Jones and Laughlin for all of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation's employes. Voting began at 6 a. m. and ended at midnight. The results, to be announced today, were generally regarded as holding the key to the future course of the SWOC, particularly in reference to five other large independent steel producers employing nearly 200,000 persons.

The SWOC, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, already has announced it would proceed immediately toward recognition by the other produc-ers, with indications the extent of demands would hinge upon yesterday's election results.

The voting was trouble-free as men and non-unionists

A new agreement covering wages and working conditons was prepared at South Bend for presentation today to union leaders among 7,000 employes at the Studebaker Corporation, idle since Wednesday. The strike was called in a demand for a closed shop. Union leaders threatened to spread the three weeks, old strike

Valdosta Is Selected as Next Convention City for Association.

ATHENS, Ga., May 20 .- (AP)-The Georgia Forestry Association today re-elected T. G. Woolford of Atlanta, president, and selected Valdosta as the 1938 convention city.

All other officers were also re-elected except Dean Paul Chap-man, of the University of Geor-gia College of Agriculture, who was elected to the executive com-mittee. G. D. Marckworth, of the University of Georgia Forestry school, was elected to his former place as a vice president. Those re-elected were James A. Fowler, Alex Cassels, of Savannah, secretary.

The final session was featured by an address by Walter S. Brown, acting director of the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service and reading of a paper by F. A. Silcox, chief of the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Resolutions were adopted praising the Union Bag & Paper Corporation, of Savannah, for its forestry program, and commending newspapers for their co-operation.
